Montpelier certainly ought to be intellectual, with so many intellects gathered there.

An occasional rainy day serves to emphasize the splendid fall weather we have had.

The Morrisville News and Citizen is getting to be one of the landmarks in Lamoille county, with its nearly 25 years of useful existence.

Hon. Elisha May of St. Johnsbury was in the city on Tuesday evening on his way to Boston. In speaking of the S. Hollister Jackson case, he said he expected the case would come up for hearing at the October term of supreme court and that if State's Attorney Jackson can establish his claim to American citizenship he shall be greatly surprised. Mr. May said that he would like to have the depositions of some of Mr. Jackson's relatives published, as they would make interesting reading.
 He said one strong point in his client's procedure was the fact that an elder brother of the state's attorney was naturalized and made an American citizen only as far back as 1890.—News item in Montpelier Journal.

We notice that Hon. Elisha May still continues to try his case before the popular tribunal.

A HUNTING LAW INCONSISTENCY.

Deer hunters in Vermont who attempt to keep within the law will find difficulty in following the path blazed out for them by the legislature of 1904, because of the lack of consistency. Two laws were adopted which contradict each other. The act relating to the season for hunting deer limits the open season to six days, beginning with "the last week in October containing six working days, Sundays excepted." Another act relating to prohibitions in hunting days says that deer may be taken "during the last ten days of October in each year." So, on the one hand, we have a law which says that deer may be hunted in six days only, and, on the other hand, another law declaring that the open season shall run for ten days, excepting Sunday. Which enactment shall the deer hunters follow? Their desire will undoubtedly be to follow the latter law, which allows them the long period in which to carry on their sport.

But the intent of the law-makers without question was to limit the open season to the narrower limit; yet by an inadvertence they amended a second law without making the same limitation. However, the accepted ruling is that deer may be hunted in Vermont only during the last week of October.
 Which means that the season will open Monday, October 23, and continue through October 28. Deer with horns not less than three inches in length are specified as those to be shot legally.
 Deer shall not be hunted with dog or dog kind, by the use of jack or artificial light, by crusting, while the deer are yarded, or by the assistance of snare, trap or salt lick.

The "Wizard of Oz."

The "Wizard of Oz," the musical extravaganza which has brought fame and fortune to its authors and managers, comes to the Barre opera house next Friday, Oct. 27.

The "Wizard of Oz," is extravaganza pure and simple, but it is done on a much larger scale than things of that kind usually have been, and, in addition, has the advantage of the two unique characters of the Scarecrow and the Tin Woodman, which, together with a host of pretty girls and a score of comedians, makes of it an entertainment that has become possibly the most popular of the kind in America.

CRISP PICKLES

Splendid, small Pickles with that delicious, tart, crispness which gives a new start to the appetite. Such are what we are now selling at 25c per gallon.
 Cheaper than some manufacturers sell for to the wholesale trade. Mind you, four whole quarts for 25c.

The horns of the dilemma are how to get good cloth and how to sell at moderate prices when real wool is so hard to get. We don't

MARSHFIELD.

George Porter and wife were the guests of Mr. Porter's people in Barre over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goodrich of Barre were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. H.
 Unwin over Sunday.

The many friends of B. W. Davis are glad to see an improvement in his health so quickly. We hope this may be permanent.

Among visitors in town over Sunday were Clara Bemis of East Montpelier, C. K. Cole of Barre and Josephine Nute of Waterbury.

The four large lights of the post office room in the K. of P. building have been replaced in room of those blown out by the robbers.

A meeting of the Marshfield cemetery association will be held with O. H.
 Smith Saturday evening, Oct. 28. All interested are requested to attend.

Will A. Pike returned to his home here from Jackson, N. H., last Saturday for a few weeks' visit with his friends before returning to California.

The auditors have been at work on the creamery accounts preparatory for the annual meeting of the association next Saturday at city school building.
 The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church is to give a chicken pie supper and entertainment at the church next week Friday evening, Oct. 27th. Programme of entertainment in next issue.

Ira Ormsbee thinks B. L. Cameron may "crow" over berries picked late in the season, but he stands at the head for late wild flowers. He handed over his correspondent a burdock stalk, budded and blossomed, recently.

T. R. Barton opens his hardware store Saturday. It is by the merest chance that Mr. Barton is with us. He was on his way to post a letter accepting a position with a large hardware firm when he met Mr. Meader, closed the property deal, took a deed of the building lot, and immediately began work.

Why Girls Leave Home.

"Why Girls Leave Home," a play which has created a great deal of interest, and which is a strong melodrama with a pure, natural and consistent story will be presented at Hale's Theatre on Tuesday evening, Oct. 24. It tells of the folly of a young girl of respectable family connections, whose heart has been won by an unprincipled scoundrel; the anger of a brother who endeavors to show his sister the waywardness of her behavior, and she, in her true innocence of heart and believing the affection of her lover to be all that a young girl could desire, scorns her brother's advice, at which the brother in a fit of anger strikes her to insensibility; she is chiseled by the villain, and smuggled to a road house in the country, and imprisoned there. She effects a sensational escape, and after a run of eight miles across the country, breathless, with her clothes torn, bleeding, exhausted, staggers into the corridor of the prison in time to save her brother's life, who in a fit of remorse, believing he has killed her, is about to commit suicide by stabbing himself with a dagger the female villain has smuggled to his cell. The author is said to have handled his subject in a most delicate and masterly manner, and the story as presented appeals to all to assist rather than "turn down" those who are attempting to do right.

GRANITEVILLE.

All members of Court Rob Roy, F. of A., are requested to attend the regular meeting on Oct. 24, as business of importance is to be transacted. Per order
